SUGGESTED PROGRAMME

DAY 1: Sunday 6th August 2023 - Aberdeenshire to Inverness

Meet with your English-speaking guide and driver and journey through Cairngorms National Park to Inverness area.

Visit Culloden Battlefield

Scene of the 1746 Battle of Culloden between the Jacobite and the British armies. As the last battle being fought on British soil, Culloden marks the beginning of the dismantlement of the structures of Highland society. In the aftermath of the battle, kilts and tartans were banned. It was here that the Jacobite army fought for a Stuart king in order to reclaim the throne of Britain from the Hanoverians. Today, 250 years on, Culloden is still a site that connects us intimately with Britain's past. Find out why this battle lasted only one hour but still changed the course of Scotland's history. Listen to accounts from genuine characters who were involved in the Battle, experience the battle in a 360 degrees theatre, get a bird's eye view of the forces and tactics at play.

Next, have a lunch at a local pub/restaurant.

Visit Fort George

Fort George is quite simply the finest example of 18th-century military engineering you'll find anywhere in the British Isles. This vast garrison fortress was built in the aftermath of the Battle of Culloden (1746), which crushed the final Jacobite Rising, and took over 20 years to complete. Fort George remains virtually unaltered today, and still serves as an important military base. Its garrison buildings, artillery defences bristling with cannons, and a superb collection of arms - including bayoneted muskets, pikes, swords and ammunition pouches - provide a fascinating insight into 18th century military life. Fort George is the only ancient monument in Scotland still functioning as intended - a working army barracks - but still welcoming visitors.

Overnight, bed and breakfast at your hotel in Inverness or area

DAY 2: Monday 7th August 2023 - Inverness Area

This morning enjoy a cruise of Loch Ness

Loch Ness is a freshwater loch (lake) which is most famously known for its fabled Loch Ness Monster. Aside from its monstrous connection, there are many interesting facts about this area of stunning beauty. Although it isn't the biggest or deepest loch in Scotland, it holds more water than Wales' and England's lakes combined! The very dark colour of the water is due to the peat washed into the loch from the surrounding hills. As well as exploring Loch Ness from above by cruise, you can explore under the water via Google Earth. A safe and dry way to find Nessie!

After, visit Beaulieu Priory

Beaulieu Priory was founded around 1230 by monks of the Valliscaulian order. They came from their mother house in Burgundy, in France, and settled beside the Beaulieu River, at the place where it enters the Beaulieu Firth. Beaulieu, meaning 'beautiful place', must have seemed to the founding monks a wonderful place to devote themselves to the worship and service of God. Only the abbey church now survives. It takes the form of a Latin cross, with a three-bay choir to the east, and a seven-bay nave to the west, and at their junction two flanking transepts to north and south.

OPTIONAL: Visit Glen Ord Distillery

A visit to Glen Ord, the nearest distillery to Inverness & Loch Ness in the Highlands of Scotland, is a delight to both the eye and the palate. Join us on a tour of the distillery and watch distillers at work creating a magical malt whisky which is sweet, malty and dry on the palate. Glen Ord distillery was founded in 1838, making it one of the oldest in Scotland and continues to malt its own barley and to use the long fermentation and slow distillation methods followed there for generations.

DAY 3: Tuesday 8th August 2023 -Inverness to Fort William

This morning depart Inverness and journey to Fort William via Isle of Skye.

En-route, visit Eilean Donan Castle

Eilean Donan Castle is one of the most recognised castles in Scotland and without a doubt, a Scottish icon. Strategically located on its own little island, overlooking the Isle of Skye, at the point where three great sea-lochs meet, and surrounded by the majestic splendour of the forested mountains of Kintail, Eilean Donan's setting is truly breath-taking. Crossing the bridge to today's castle, the fourth version, you can clearly understand why Bishop Donan chose the tranquil spot back in 634AD to settle on it and create a monastic cell. The castle that visitors enjoy so much today was reconstructed as a family home between 1912 and 1932 by Lt Col John MacRae-Gilstrap and incorporated much of the ruins from previous destructions. At this point the bridge was added; a structure that is as much a part of the classic image as the very castle itself.

Cross over to the Isle of Skye via roadbridge.

Visit Armadale Castle

Located in Armadale, just a short walk from the ferry terminal, Clan Donald Skye is a 20,000-acre highland estate on the Sleat peninsula in south Skye. Once part of the traditional lands of Clan Donald, the Estate's principal focal points are the restored historic gardens, and the beautiful walking trails threading through the 40 acres of woodland around Armadale Castle. In the Museum of the Isles, you will discover the history of the Highlands and Islands through the story of Clan Donald, its most powerful clan, at the award-winning museum. Six interconnecting galleries taking you through 1500 years of the history and culture of the area once known as the Kingdom of the Isles. The MacDonalDs - or Clan Donald - were the Lords of the Isles and sat at the heart of the history of Gaeldom. The museum follows their story and that of the Highlands.

After, travel from Isle of Skye back to the mainland at Mallaig by ferry.

Take the Jacobite Steam Train from Mallaig to Fort William.

Please note that this is an extremely popular activity with limited availability and is difficult to secure - also the train company now only sell return tickets, so you have to pay for a return journey even if the group only travel one-way on the train.

It has seen many royal dramas and witnessed the lives and deaths of almost every Scottish monarch up to the Union of the Crowns in 1603.
